HONEST CHAUFFEUR RETURNS VALUABLES

Makes Owner Happy and Wins Generous Reward.

When Morris I. Cooke, former director of public works of Philadelphia, now connected with the Council of National Defense, and his wife, haled a public motor hack, yesterday afternoon, neither of them retained the slightest suspicion that they were going to lose anything—particularly Mrs. Cooke's purse containing money and a diamond brooch, valued in all at $1,500.

Others, who might have suspected their temporary chauffeur to a rigid examination with a view of ascertaining his honesty. They didn't. But when they passed down the line of "for hire" cars, Mrs. Cooke intuitively got the car driven by Frederick Kendrick, colored, who lives at 1917 Thirteenth street northwest. To day the car was found. Here's why: Upon returning to the Lafayette Hotel after their tour in the country, Mrs. Cooke discovered that the truly had lost her purse and brooch. Mr. Cooke, after a thorough search, walked into the lobby to phone police headquarters and notify them of their loss.

He was intercepted by the hotel clerk, who, handing him his wife's missing purse and jewel, explained they had just been returned by a colored man named Kendrick. Rejoiced, Mr. and Mrs. Cooke dispatched a munificent reward to the chauffeur. And thus ended a "memorial" incident for all.

1,200 DEMONSTRATIONS HELD

Three Thousand Heard U. S. Expert Give Gardening Helps.

Results of all the steps taken to aid the Government in food production by home gardens in the District were disclosed at a meeting of the central garden committee in the District building today.

More than 1,200 demonstration consultations were held by H. M. Conolly, Department of Agriculture demonstrator, and he addressed fifty-seven public meetings since the campaign of The Times for home gardens was inaugurated.

Approximately 3,000 persons have heard the demonstrator talk on practical garden helps. Mr. Conolly made 772 visits to gardens to inspect them during the season of early planting. The demonstrator traveled more than 1,200 miles in the District in an automobile; 677 miles on street cars, and walked 208 miles to impart gardening information.

Distributed 3,400 Plants.

He distributed 3,400 plants to gardeners, and thousands of seeds for planting.

These are some of the activities of the Central Garden Committee, according to reports submitted at today's meeting. Approximately 2,000 interested citizens have called at headquarters of the central committee since The Times began the campaign for home gardens. Harold L. McAllister, executive secretary, reported.

Three hundred thousand square feet of land have been plowed up in the District at a cost of $157, it was reported. Some of the land plowed was originally used as a baseball diamond and tennis court.

Subscriptions to Fund.

Mr. McAllister reported subscriptions to the garden fund from civic bodies, citizens' associations and private citizens.

The central committee has answered 2,000 telephone calls to inform anxious gardeners about early planting.

About 1,000 circular and personal letters have been mailed out by the committee to inquirers. The District Department has furnished fertilizer to hundreds of home garden growers and will continue this form of aid to gardeners as long as the season lasts, Mr. McAllister reported.
